U.S. DEFEATED IN HUNGARY BY INTRIGUE

Franco - British Intrigue Beats America's Efforts to Oust Rumanians

BRITAIN AIDS JOB

Support Restoration of Archduke Joseph to the Throne

PARIS—The peace conference steam roller, with Premier Clemenceau at the wheel, has again run roughshod over the American peace commission.

America's policy regarding the Roumanian invasion of Hungary is utterly ignored. The peace conference proposes to overlook Roumania's open defiance of the great powers' express orders and recognition of Archduke Joseph as head of the new Hungarian government is reported assured.

Thus a vigorous American fight for "government by the consent of the governed" and for the sanctity of national borders ends in ignominious defeat.

Wanted Roumanians Ousted.

From the outset of the uncalled for Roumanian aggression against Hungary the American plenipotentiaries stood out for a strong, unequivocal policy toward the offending Roumanians, insisting that they be forced to clear out of Hungary.

But the peace conference acted otherwise, and tonight it is clear that it has determined to handle the situation according to the rules of old-time diplomacy.

The argument of the Americans was based upon one of the great principles for which the war was fought, namely, that peoples should beleft at complete liberty to form their own governments; that outside interference was one of the pernicious things making for future wars. Roumania's course was regarded by our representatives as in direct violation of that policy.

Coupled with the disappointment over the defeat in their fight for a concrete illustration to the world of a new order of things, came the discovery today that they had been misled into thinking the British sided with them.

Franco-British Intrigue.

They learned that, on the contrary, the British have been throughout working in close harmony with the French. The latter, as is well known, have been "pulling" strongly for the Roumanians, insisting that King Ferdinand's army be allowed to handle the situation in Hungary.

It is an open secret that the British are taking great delight in this latest defeat of the Americans. In working with the French, the British are understood to have an eye on future bargainings elsewhere.

The Czecho-Slovaks, evidently inspired by the Americans, to whom they are deeply grateful for the creation of their republic, demanded that the Roumanians leave Hungary immediately.

The Czechs, of course, have a motive of their own, for they fear to lose their share of the Austro-Hungarian reparations.

The German bugaboo was also revived today, the warning being spread that Germany, seeing the peace conference in great trouble, might try to benefit from the muddled situation.

JURY NOW HAS THE FORD CASE

BULLETIN

MT. CLEMENS, Mich.—The judge instructed that the plaintiff's charge of pro-Germanism against the Tribune and of a selfish interests in advocating intervention in Mexica had not been proven and the jury need not consider it.

(By the Associated Press)

MOUNT CLEMONS, Mich.—The jury which for three months has been hearing testimony and arguments in Henry Ford's $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune, retired today to consider its verdict.

Judge James G. Tucker instructed the jury that the "right of fair comment" is expected in the case of Mr. Ford because of his position as a great employer of labor and entry as a propagandist into the discussion of preparedness questions made him a public character.

The judge held that a newspaper has no greater privileges in making comment than has an individual.

The courtroom was crowded while the judge was charging the jury.

The only one of the principals in the suit present was Captain Joseph M. Patterson, one of the publishers of the Tribune. Mr. Ford is in the Adirondacks on a vacation.

Judge Tucker gave several definitions of the words "Anarchist" and "Anarchy," but instructed that it was the duty of the jury itself to determine in what sense the newspaper used the words and what it would mean to its readers. There were two defenses, he continued. If the jury finds that charges in the editorial were true, that Mr. Ford was in fact an "anarchist" and "ignorant idealist," it was a complete defense, he said. The "right of fair comment," he instructed, was a second defense to be considered only in event that the first defense was inadequate. In the course of his charge, the court said:

"The editorial, as it appeared in the paper and standing by itself without explanation, is libelous, or in legal terms, liberous per se, (of itself).

"The defendant, Chicago Tribune, admits the publication and insists that it was true, and therefore justified; and that even if not true, it was fair comment upon a matter of public interest, either of which defenses are sufficient if proven."

The jury was locked up at 9:55 a. m.

CALLS BIG 5 KAISERS TO BE BATTLED NOW

6,000 at La Crosse Anti-H. C. L. Meeting Hear Attorney Assail Packers

DEMAND RELIEF AT ONCE

Resolution From Meeting Sent to Wilson, Congress, Urge Stamp Out Profiteer

(Special to The Capital Times.)

LA CROSSE—Branding the "Big Five" packers as "two-legged food hogs" who never look into the sunlight of economic and political decency, Attorney James Thompson, at a mass meeting attended by 6,000 citizens, called to protest high prices and profiteering in the necessities of life, advocated government profit fixing and jail terms for violators of federal food control laws.

The meeting, under supervision of the Citizens' Cooperative League, an organization composed of professional, business and laboring men, was staged as a formal protest against ever soaring prices and unlimited and outrageous profits coined by the clique which controls the nation's food supply.

Purely a people's protest, it caused wide-spread interest in the western part of the state. People from neighboring towns and villages were here in great numbers. So great had the public interest been aroused that, prior to the meeting, delegations of "prominent citizens" visited Mr. Thompson and advised "taming down" his address, maintaining that public sentiment against profiteering was at the firing point.

Immediately following the address of Thompson resolutions addressed to President Wilson, members of congress, Gov. Philipp, and other officials were passed. The resolutions, which were prepared by W. V. Kidder, demand "immediate relief from profiteering" and the prevention of "future similar abuses."

The address of Mr. Thompson, in part, was as follows:

"This is no longer the agitation of the radical. It is a nation-wide movement that has come as the cry of despair has ascended to Heaven. Among the poor, in New York and Chicago, parents are giving their children away to public institutions to be cared for. Widows and the disabled are in dire want. Love of country and love of humanity demand that we join with heart and soul in this movement for the betterment of the world.

"Nature with lavish hand has given to our country almost boundless resources. The American inventive genius has provided labor-saving machinery everywhere. A hundred million men and women are willing and eager to work. Food should be available at low prices everywhere. But they are rising skyward, ever higher and higher, almost beyond reach of the common man. There is a nigger in the woodpile somewhere and I propose to uncover him if possible.

"There was profiteering going on during the war. But during the war we submitted to it in what we were told was patriotic unselfishness. The time has come to speak, when duty demands that we speak. So far as I know, there have been no prosecutions for profiteering, but men have been prosecuted for saying, among other things, that there were such beings as profiteers. Public sentiment has been suppressed. Profiteering has had full sway, and I need not say the profiteers have been running on high. Profits ranging from 50 to 100 per cent on the in-

$50,000 WORTH OF BUTTER IS SEIZED TODAY

SELL SUGAR AT 11 CENTS

Department of Justice Sets Fair Price; Congress Discusses Plans

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Palmer told the senate agricultural committee today that it was his intention to prosecute all dealers in necessities selling above the prices to be determined by price committees in cities and counties as fair and just.

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — One thousand two hundred and eighty two tubs of butter, valued at $50,000 were seized here today on libel warrants issued by the United States District Attorney's office.

Part of the butter seized was a consignment enroute from St. Paul to Pittsburgh, consisting of 300 tubs which was taken from freight cars. The owners were not disclosed by government officials.

The seizures were made on warrants authorizing the condemnation and sale of the commodity or its disposal in any other way which may be ordered by the court.

It was learned that the government plans the seizure of other large quantities of food in cold storage warehouses.

Sugar at 11 Cents.

WASHINGTON—Through license regulations and power of the food administration to procure the cancellation of licenses, the department of justice hopes to reach cases of profiteering in sugar that it would be more difficult to reach through enforcement of the criminal provisions of the food control act.

This position of the department was made plain in a circular sent to district attorneys today calling attention that food administration officials had taken the position that sugar should not retail for more than 11 cents a pound and that "where it is retailing for more, it indicates that either the wholesaler or retailer is making an unreasonable profit."

Mr. Palmer was to appear later today before the senate agriculture committee to explain amendments to the food control act extending anti-profiteering sections to clothing and other necessities and providing penalties for violations of the law.

When the committee met today senators expressed divided opinions as to the necessity for the legislation.

"If we amend this bill," said Senator Smith, "it will mean we will include every article of commerce and put the commerce of America in the hands of the department of justice."

Senator McNary said he believed the bill now is sufficient to reach any conceivable case, while Senator Smith expressed doubt that congress had constitutional power to pass such legislation except as a war measure.

Chairman Gronna explained that Mr. Palmer's proposals were designed to carry out recommendations made by President Wilson, who had pointed out that no penalty was provided for the prosecution of profiteers.

"With conditions as they now are over the country," said Senator Johnson, "amendments will not hurt this act, and I favor giving Mr. Palmer all the power he asks, to see if he can accomplish what we desire to have him accomplish."

Hoarding at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Federal investigation of food conditions in St. Paul today show that three times as much food is in cold storage here as there was a year ago.

Information obtained from federal agents today show that 603,600 dozen eggs are in storage here as against 484,530 a year ago; 577,752 pounds of butter as against 188,286 a year ago and more than a million pounds of meat are stored in a central warehouse to the credit of Swift and Company.

Mayors Demand Action

WASHINGTON — Mayors of fifty New Jersey cities will appear before the house agriculture committee Monday to demand that something be done by congress to reduce the high cost of living.

RAIL SITUATION HANGS ON VOTE FROM CHICAGO

Local Action Will be Guided by Outcome of General Meeting

CHICAGO — Several thousand striking railway shopmen from all parts of the country met here today to consider the question of returning to work. Local leaders urged the strikers to stand firm while international officials advised the men to call off the strike and defer until later the settlement of their demands for higher wages.

While the meeting was in session 28,000 striking car workers in the Chicago district began taking a referendum vote to decide whether they will return to work.

With anything near normal transportation service for Madison on the Northwestern and Milwaukee roads on its last legs, the entire situation probably rests on the action taken at the combined meeting of railroad shopmen at Chicago.

It is calculated that anything less than the immediate return of all strikers will see service severely crippled within almost a matter of hours. Already many freight shipments are a week behind and the rolling stock going without overhauling or repairs is fast getting out of shape. There is somewhere near 250 men out in Madison.

NEW BOARD IN ITS FIRST CASE

Conciliation Body to Hear Milwaukee Street Car Trouble

The conciliation board will investigate the threatened street car strike in Milwaukee, with hearings starting in Milwaukee, Friday morning. This announcement was made by Chairman W. S. Heddles.

An application asking the conciliation board to take cognizance of the Milwaukee situation was filed with the conciliation board several days ago. On Wednesday afternoon representatives of the employes came to Madisor on a similar mission. The result was that the members of the conciliation board had representatives of both sides of the controversy before them asking the board to take up the matter. Employes were represented by Martin Finnerty, Milwaukee; Paul Smith, Racine; William Willis, Milwaukee; Edward Olson, assistant secretary oy the Employees' Mutual Benefit association, and Walter Drew, attorney for the association. The company was represented by James D. Shaw.

This is the first case to come before the conciliation board and was presented to the members before they had an opportunity to organize. Representatives of the employes claimed that they were not getting a living wage; that the highest paid was 46 cents an hour, while the men could leave the company and get 56 cents in common labor. They claimed that in Chicago the men were given 65 cents an hour.

MEXICO GIVEN WARNING BY U. S.

Told That Policy Will be Changed Unless Americans Are Protected

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Warning that there would be a radical change in the policy of the American government regarding Mexico if the Carranza government continued to fail to protect Americans in that country, was contained in a note sent to the Mexican foreign office July 22.

That the note had been dispatched was disclosed today by the state department together with the information that in its reply the Mexican government had said that everything possible already was being done to protect foreigners. There was a suggestion that unless foreigners concentrated in populous places, it would be impossible to afford them the protection demanded.

WOLFE ORDERS PRODUCE PUT ON MARKET

PROMISES PROSECUTIONS

Says Storage Amount Has Been Greatly Increased in the Last Year

Madison grocers will meet with U. S. District Attorney Wolfe at the Association of Commerce rooms in the Cantwell building next Monday night, according to arrangements made this afternoon by Don Mowry, secretary, acting on numerous requests from the grocers, who declare they are anxious to do their part in aiding to cut prices but want to know just what is expected of them by the attorney in his fight against the high prices on foodstuffs.

The price of eggs to the consumers of Wisconsin will go down at once by federal mandate, according to U. S. District Attorney A. C. Wolfe of the western district of Wisconsin, who was arranging today to begin federal prosecution of storage houses which failed to put their eggs on the market at once. If they refuse the eggs will be seized This is the first definite blow which has been struck by the United States district attorney's office to lower the high cost of living.

District Attorney Wolfe on Thursday was sending a letter to every cold storage house in the western district of Wisconsin asking them to put their eggs upon the market at once in order that the egg combine may be broken. He is furnishing complete information to H. A. Sawyer, United States district attorney of the eastern district of Wisconsin on the egg situation and similar action will be taken there.

District Attorney Wolfe claims that eggs in Wisconsin are being hoarded. He will prosecute storage houses that attempt to send eggs out of the state with a view to having them hoarded in some other state beyond the pale of Wisconsin jurisdiction. He says there are 3,245,880 dozens of eggs in Wisconsin in cold storage, as compared with 2,797,749 dozens of eggs on this same date one year ago.

"The price of eggs in Wisconsin must go down and criminal prosecution will be made of every storage house which fails to place its eggs upon the market at once," declared Mr. Wolfe. "Those storage houses who place their eggs upon the market will not be immune from prosecution as hoarders. Storage houses who refuse to put their eggs upon the market will be prosecuted under the criminal laws and the products will be seized by the government and placed upon the markets for sale. We have complete information on the egg situation in Wisconsin. We advise every retailer not to pay an excessive price for eggs as the price is surely going down under federal mandate and criminal prosecution."

"We're going to carry the fight to these profitters in food supplies," said Mr. Wolfe.

"If they do not obey this mandate, I will start libel proceedings, get out warrants, have the United States marshals seize the eggs on a court order, and sell the eggs to the public. I am telling them in my letters that I consider their action to be hoarding and that I will hold them criminally responsible, will file complaints, arrest them, and will recommend jail sentences when they come to trial. Eggs are going down. Consumers ought to be getting eggs at 30 cents a dozen soon.

"We are not intending to injure honest retailers. We want to help them. They should not overstock or pay fancy prices to the farmers or cold storage houses any longer. This profiteering is not going to be permitted. I expect to see millions of eggs go on the market at once.

"I feel confident," he continued, "that sugar is selling today all over the western district at 11 cents a pound following the order which I issued yesterday. Kleuter and company are expecting a carload of sugar from Chicago today. This fight is going on all over the country. There is a plentiful supply of sugar and eggs but it has been hoarded for speculative profiteering purposes. Grocery men who cannot get sugar or eggs should write to me or let me know about it and I will act immediately.

Attorney Wolfe points to the fact that eggs have not come down all spring because when the hens started laying, agents of the big wholesalers, not only here but all over the country, went around buying up all the eggs at 18 cents a dozen to be stored away till the price should be boosted.

SAYS ROADS ARE ENTITLED TO 6 PER CENT

Warfield Plan Presented to House Committee; Workers Divide Surplus

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — The Warfield plan for railroad control, with provision for a flat return of six per cent on capital invested, was presented today to the house interstate commerce committee by Luther M. Walter, general counsel of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities.

The fundamentals of the plan, including division of all surplus over the fixed return, among employes, the public and the road earning it, were explained by Mr. Walter who declared it could be put into effect immediately.

"The keystone of the Warfield plan," the witness said, "Is a congressional direction to the interstate commerce commission that it shall make freight and passenger rates sufficient to pay operating expenses, maintain railroad properties and give not less than six per cent return upon the aggregate fair value of the property devoted to transportation in each of the principal traffic territories."

It was a fundamental of the Warfield plan, the witness said that labor should participate in the earnings of the carriers.

"We believe" he declared, "That capital is entitled to its return of six per cent, that labor is entitled to a fair wage and that the excess earned by the carriers after paying fair wages, and six per cent upon capital, should be divided with labor and the public."

KOLCHAK STILL SUFFERS DEFEAT

Reverses in the Ural Mountains Continue; U. S. Rifles Are Sent

LONDON—The retreat in the Ural mountains of the forces of Admiral Kolchak continues. South of Uralsk at the southern end of the Urals, it is added, the bolsheviki have driven the Cossacks back 60 miles and are endeavoring to separate them from the main body of Kolchak forces.

Kolchak forces are fighting on both sides of the Trans-Siberian railway. The advices add that there is no sign that the bolsheviki advance is likely to be checked.

The Associated Press is informed, however, that the general position of Admiral Kolchak and his government is not believed to have been made materially worse by the bolshevik advance and barring the unexpected collapse of Admiral Kolchak the munitions America is sending should arrive in Siberia in time to aid in his recovery.

Nevertheless, it is admitted here that the reverses are a serious blow to the policy of the entente in Russia.

Better news has been received from south Russia, where General Petlura, the Ukrainian anti-bolshevik leader, is progressing rapidly toward Kiev with a view to cutting the railways southward toward Odessa. The Russian volunteer troops under General Denikine are closing in on Odessa from the northeast and the east and it is believed that the whole Black sea coast soon will be out of bolshevik hands.

LOWDEN SENDS PEORIA TROOPS

Soldiers Called Out Following Shootings in Labor Strike

(By the Associated Press)

PEORIA, Ill. — With quiet prevailing at the Keystone Steel and Wire plant, the Peoria, military units rested on their arms this morning awaiting orders to march to the plant where they will be detailed to preserve order and stamp out the guerilla warfare which characterized rioting between strikers and deputy sheriffs in the steel mills yesterday. Units from four other central Illinois cities were called to mobilize last night by Gov. Lowden.

Six explosions, believed to be dynamite blasts, shook the works of the Keystone plant yesterday and early today and reverberated throughout the city.

What the blasts really were and where they were fired is a mystery. That the blasts were inside of the heavily guarded works of the Keystone mills is admitted by officials of the company, who, however, offer no further explanation.

Presbyterian Ritual Used at Carnegie Funeral

(By the Associated Press)

LENOX, Mass.—The funeral of Andrew Carnegie was held at Shadowbrook, his summer home in the Berkshires, today. There was no eulogy and there were no pall-bearers.

The service was as simple as were the tastes and habits of the man in life. Fully one half of the 60 persons present were members of the household. The others were intimates of the family.

The ritual of the Presbyterian church was used by the officiating clergyman, Dr. William Pierson Merrill of the Brick Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue, New York, where the Carnegies attended, and of which Mrs. Carnegie and her daughter, Mrs. Roswell Miller, are members. The day upon which his daughter united with this church was declared by Mr. Carnegie to be "the happiest day of his life."

A mixed quartette sang the three hymns that were the favorites of the philanthropist and former iron master.

At the conclusion of the service, which occupied barely 20 minutes, the body, accompanied by most of the party, was removed in a motor car to Hillsdale, N. Y., where a funeral coach was in waiting. This car was attached to the regular train of the New York Central leaving at 1:11 o'clock this afternoon for Tarrytown. Thence the body was to be taken by automobile to Sleepy Hollow for interment in a lot chosen by Mr. Carnegie some years ago.

The services at Shadowbrook were held in the great reception room on the first floor at the east end of the mansion overlooking Lake Mahkeenac, one of the beauty sports of the estate, and where Mr. Carnegie spent many happy hours at his favorite pastime of angling.

The body reposed in a severely plain casket placed in the center of the room and all but hidden in a wealth of floral pieces. The mahogany of the casket was covered with heavy black broadcloth. A small name plate of silver bore only the inscription, "Andrew Carnegie, born at Dumfermline, Scotland, Nov. 25, 1835. Died Lenox, Mass, Aug. 11, 1919."

Just before 10:30 o'clock, the hour set for the funeral, those who were to hear the last rites entered the room and grouped themselves about the casket. With Mrs. Carnegie and her daughter, Mrs. Roswell Miller, who were in conventional mourning, were the daughter's husband, Ensign Miller; Mrs. Morris Johnson, a niece of Mr. Carnegie; his nephews, Andrew and Morris Carnegie; Mrs. Carnegie's private secretary, Archibald Barrow, and John Poynton, who had long served the master of the house in a similar capacity.

Next in the circle were notable representatives of those who had helped the industrial giant to make his millions, and others who had helped the philanthropist distribute the major part of those millions for humanitarian purposes. Among these were Charles M. Schwab, Robert A. Franks, business adviser of the iron master; the Rev. Frederick H. Lynch, who represented the Carnegie Peace foundation during the peace conference at Paris, and Oliver Ricketson.

BEST-KNOWN BEE EXPERT COMING

Dr. Miller of Marengo, Ill., to Speak Here in "Bee" Chatauqua Next Week

Asked to name the best known beekeeper in the country, most men familiar with the industry will mention Dr. C. C. Miller of Marengo, Ill., says H. F. Wilson, in charge of the work with bees at the college of agriculture. For 50 years Dr. Miller has kept bees, written about them in farm papers, and edited columns about them in bee journals.

At the beekeepers' chautauqua here Aug. 18-23, Dr. Miller will be one of the principal speakers. Another speaker, also well known, is E. R. Root, a member of a large beekeepers' supply house.

Dr. E. F. Phillips and George S. Demuth of the U. S. Bee Culture laboratory will lecture daily on phases of bee behavior during the season. Kennith Hawkins of the G. B. Lewis company, Watertown, will talk on selling. Dr. S. B. Fracker, state entomologist, will talk on bee diseases. H. L. McMurry, state extension worker, talks on rearing queen bees. A. Swahn, Ellsworth, on extension work; Frank Kittinger, Franksville, on outdoor wintering; N. E. France, Platteville, H. H. Moe, Monroe, L. Francisco, Mosinee, and W. T. Sherman, Elkhorn, on comb vs. extracted honey production. James Cherf of Antigo will lecture on "Obtaining the Maximum Crop in Wisconsin."

Lectures will start at 1 p. m. Monday, Aug. 18, and will continue until Saturday, Aug. 23, when a field meeting and basket picnic for members of the state beekeepers' association will wind up the week's events.

Old Sailor Rescues Three From Lake

Christian Hanson of the town of Burke, an old sailor from Norway, rescued three people whose boat had capsized in Lake Monona yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Hanson, who was a guest at the home of A. G. Felland, had taken a boat out for fishing and saw the party in distress. The rescued people are guests of Rev. O. G. Foster of Chicago at the Pottenger cottage.

GREY CHOICE EFFECT VARIED

Press Scores Plan of Temporary Appointment to America

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON—Viscount Grey's acceptance of the appointment of temporary British ambassador to the United States is given warm approval by the press here. There is, however, dissatisfied criticism in some quarters not on the ground of Viscount Grey's fitness or his acceptability, but because of the extraordinary responsibilities attaching to the post at this moment.

The Daily News severely scores the government for making an "emergency appointment," adding:

"To choose a statesman who for more than two years has been out of touch with active political life, is to say the least, a singular proceeding."

The newspaper, which is an admirer of Viscount Grey, says his task will be delicate, his power being at best limited.

The Post, which is an opponent of Viscount Grey politically, nevertheless assumes that America will regard his appointment as a compliment, as he is a notable Englishman, but it hopes that "Viscount Grey will not forget Americans respect a man who stands firmly on the rights and interests of his own nation. In the past there has been a weak tradition of surrender at Washington due mainly to the pusillanimous and unmanly policy of the government at home."

Are you a normal Smoker?

This Fatima advertisement may help you find the type of cigarette you will like, whether it happens to be Fatima or not.

"WHICH one of the several forms of smoking will give me the most pleasure and solid comfort?"

That is your real question.

And you can answer it best if you classify your smoking likes and dislikes—if you know whether your smoke taste is, or is not, normal, or like that of most men.

So the first thing to find is the normal smoke-taste. Which smoke, or type of smoke, do most men prefer?

All signs point one way

This is not merely because the cigarette is, as medical men have proved, the mildest form of smoking. Nor is it wholly because of the cigarette's cleanness, convenience and moderate cost. Beyond question, it is due very largely to improvements in the types of cigarettes.

Until about 30 years ago most cigarettes were of straight American (or Domestic) tobacco. Then cigarettes of Turkish tobacco were introduced and the business took quite a jump.

But these clean, mild short smokes did not really strike their gait until "Turkish blend" cigarettes came on the market. These are cigarettes containing both Domestic and Turkish tobaccos in blends of various proportions; and Fatima was the first one of this type.

Then along came the "Turkish blend"

"Turkish blends" seemed to be the smoke that this country had been waiting for.

Look at the increase during recent years shown on Chart No. 1, and notice the tremendous difference in favor of blends on Chart No. 2.

There is no doubt about it—the "normal" smoke-taste goes straight for cigarettes—and for those of the Turkish blend type.

But your taste is your own

Perhaps you are a Turkish blend smoker yourself. If not, your first step towards checking up on your own smoke-taste will be to discontinue your straight Turkish or straight Domestic cigarette long enough to give the blended cigarettes a fair trial.

If—as is quite natural—your taste is unlike that of the majority, you will, of course, go back to your present cigarette.

But do not do this simply because your first two or three blended cigarettes do not ring the bell. There are some pretty bad, as well as some wonderfully good, Turkish blend cigarettes.

What the Army Doctors smoke:

At Ft. Riley, Kansas, where the thousands of doctors from all over the U. S. A. were trained for overseas service, Turkish blend cigarettes were almost the only kind smoked. Incidentally, Fatima was far in the lead from first to last.

Every man's taste is his own and it is, of course, rather ridiculous to find some cigarettes actually claiming to suit the taste of every smoker. Fatima makes no such claim. But you owe it to yourself to try Fatima, the founder of the whole Turkish blend family, before you decide on your final steady smoke.

It may or may not be Fatima

This is the only cigarette above the cheaper brands that has ever won a tremendous, nation-wide popularity.

Fatima's sales nearly double those of all the straight Turkish cigarettes combined; and no other cigarette costing as much as Fatima has even one-half of Fatima's annual sales.

Even at leading clubs and hotels and at the fashionable resorts such as Palm Beach and Atlantic City, Fatima is today outselling the fancy, expensive, straight Turkish cigarettes which formerly enjoyed leadership among smokers with plenty of money.

No, Fatima does not claim to suit every one. But its big sales and high standing indicate that this cigarette does come nearer than any other to meeting the "normal" taste.

The reason may be that Fatima contains more Turkish than any other Turkish blend. This would mean, in other words, that instead of containing too much Turkish as straight Turkish cigarettes do, or too little as in the poorer Turkish blends, Fatima's famous blend contains just enough Turkish—just enough to taste right and just enough to leave a man feeling right even after smoking more than usual.

Hot Tea and Frozen Cream Very Constipating

THERE is little inclination for solid food on a hot day. Cold drinks and ices, salads and pastry form much of the diet, especially among women. This lack of wholesome variety, however, interferes with proper digestion.

The result is biliousness, listlessness, dizzy spells. The cause is constipation. The stomach could not digest nor the bowels pass off the day's strange mixture of food and drink.

A simple way of overcoming the trouble is this: If you have not already got Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the house, go to a drug store and buy a 50c or $1 bottle. Take a teaspoonful tonight before you go to bed. It will act in the morning, and immediately thereafter your head will be clear and that feeling of oppression will be gone.

Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts on the stomach-muscles training them to do their work naturally so that medicines can be dispensed with. It is the most widely used laxative compound in the world. That means merit.

A free sample bottle can be had by sending your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 480 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

SENATORS WILL CALL ON WILSON ON THE TREATY

Members of the Foreign Relations Committee Will Go to White House

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The senate foreign relations committee today decided to notify President Wilson that it would call on him at the white house at his convenience to disclose the peace treaty.

The commitee also decided to call before it E. T. Williams, S. K. Hornbeck and William C. Bullitt, who resigned as advisers to the American peace commission at Paris, because, it has been reported, they disagreed with decisions by the conference.

A motion to call also Col. House, Gen. Bliss and Henry White, was voted down 9 to 8, Senators McCumber, and Harding, republicans, voting with the democrats.

In deciding to request a conference with President Wilson, on which there was no committee vote, it was agreed that all information secured from the president should be made public.

There was no indication at the white house when the president would receive the committee. To inquiries, Secretary Tumulty said: "We have no comment to make."

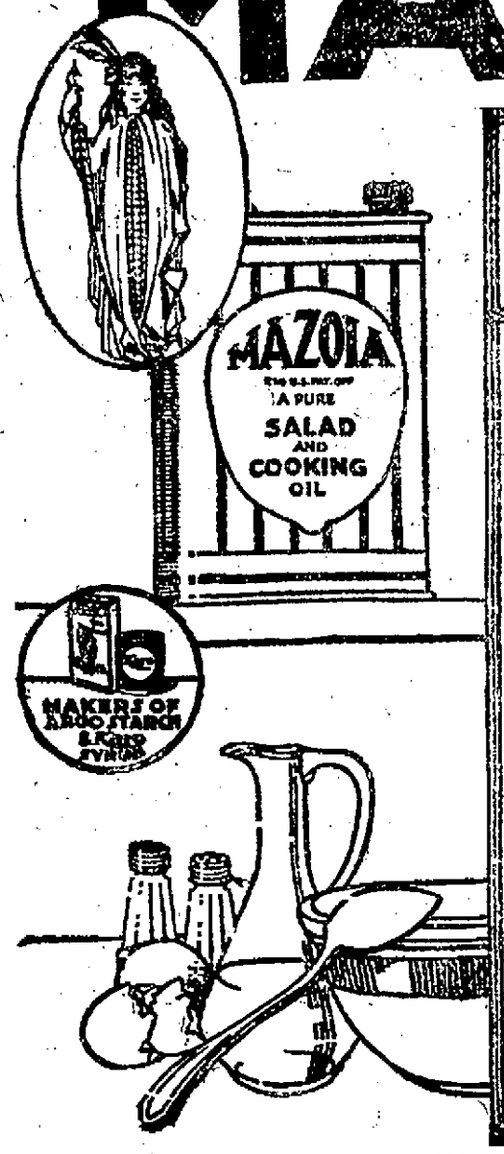
In agreeing to call on the president the committee accepted an informal invitation transmitted by Senator Hitchcock, the administration leader, a few days after Mr. Wilson laid the treaty before the senate. The suggestion that the committee go to the white house was understood to have been made by Senator Johnson, republican, of California.

Several members, including Senator Borah, were understood to have objected if the talk with the president was to be confidential. Senator Fall was said to have indicated that he would not go because no record of the discussions would be kept and disputes would arise afterward as to what the president said.

President Stands Pat

WASHINGTON — While gratified that the senate foreign relations committee has decided to speed up consideration of the peace treaty, President Wilson it was said today, has not receded from his position against reservations.

It was estimated at the white house that the attitude of Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, who told the foreign relations committee yesterday that unless the committee reported the treaty out in the near future, an attempt would be made to have it called up in the senate, reflected that of the president.



MAZOLA

The Perfect oil for cooking and salads

THE most discriminating epicure cannot say whether it is Mazola or imported olive oil in mayonnaise or French dressing served him.

Make This Delicious Mayonnaise Dressing Today

2 Eggs, Yolks only — 1 pint of Mazola — 1 teaspoon of Mustard
1 dash of Pepper — 1 teaspoon of Salt — 4 tablespoons of Vinegar

HAVE all ingredients and mixing utensils cold. Mix dry ingredients. Add egg yolks and when well mixed, add ½ teaspoon of vinegar. Add Mazola drop by drop until the mixture begins to thicken, beating slowly. As soon as the mixture thickens, add the remainder of the vinegar a little at a time. Now beat in the remainder of the Mazola gradually until all is used. The mayonnaise should be thick enough to hold its shape. Put in a glass jar and cover close. Place in the ice box to be used when needed. It will keep for weeks. Do not stir it when you open it; take out as much as you need with a tablespoon, and close the jar.

LOW SALARIES; VACANCIES AT LIBRARY RESULT

Trained Librarians Get Less Than People in Other Lines

Six vacancies, only one of which is temporarily filled, are reported in the staff of the city library and its branches. This unusual number of vacancies can be accounted for partly by the low salaries paid for trained librarians, as compared with any other class of trained and in many cases untrained labor.

Each year fewer young women are training themselves for this work, chiefly because of the small remuneration. This statement is upheld by the fact that it is a frequent occurrence for applicants to the university library school to take the entrance examination, pass and then fail to take the course.

It is expected that appointments will be made early this autumn to fill the place of Miss Anna Essinger, Miss Rena Landt, Miss Edna Smith, Miss Faith Allen, Miss Lilla Allen and Miss Crawford all of whom have left or are leaving. Miss Crawford was engaged as a substitute.

Wisconsin Will Give Europe Seeds

Wisconsin will furnish a large part of the seeds for the reforestration of devastated Europe, was indicated by Assemblyman F. N. Graass, Sturgeon Bay, in an interview today. The opening of the mails from Germany has already indicated, according to Mr. Graass, that orders will come to this country for the seed. Graass is an exporter of American tree seeds.

"Devastated Europe looks to Wisconsin for her seeds to reforest," said Mr. Graass. "As you know before the war I supplied all the European countries with their seed for forestry purposes. The war put an end to the business, but now the seed is needed to rebuild what was devastated during the war. Wisconsin will supply them with chiefly white, Norway and jack pine, cedar hemlock, basswood and acorns. These cones are picked in all the northern counties and shipped to Sturgeon Bay, Wis. The price paid for them runs from 50 cents to $3 00 a bushel. After the cones are received they are treated and put through a process that extracts the seeds which is cleaned, tested and exported. Wisconsin this fall will furnish hundreds of carloads of pine cones to reforest Europe."

SWENSON AND WOLFE CONFER

Will Attempt to Get Share of Government War Surplus

The latest move in the fight of U. S. District Attorney Wolfe against profiteering and high prices of food stuffs was taken up at a meeting this morning with Magnus Swenson, recently appointed state food administrator, at which it was planned to secure for Wisconsin its share of the surplus food supply which the government has announced it will start selling immediately through the postoffice department at prices lower than retailers are asking. Attorney Wolfe declared that he was going to take up the matter again this afternoon with Attorney General Blaine.

Postmaster Devine has not yet received the letter of instructions which the postal department informed him yesterday would be sent soon explaining the way in which the postoffice would take orders and distribute the government supply of food.

COL. HUGH LEWIS PASSES AWAY

Body is Brought Here From Washington; Was in Iron Brigade

Col. Hugh Lewis, aged 84, door tender in the house of representatives for 40 years and one of the few remaining members of the famous Iron Brigade, died at Washington Monday. The body arrived in Madison last night and funeral services were held from the Frautschi funeral parlors this afternoon, Rev. W. J. McKay officiating.

The honorary pall bearers were J. O. Davidson, Burr W. Jones, Frank L. Gilbert, Major F. W. Oakley, Capt. John Sumner and Judge Henry Casson. Active bearers were W. A. Devine, W. Owens, John W. Groves, L. W. Hudson, Paul Gurnee and Hosea W. Rood.

Accompanying the body from Washington were Mrs. Lewis and the two daughters, Margaret E. Lewis of Washington and Martha E. Lewis of Rochester, N. Y. One son, Richard O. Lewis, of Beloit, was in Madison to make arrangements for the funeral last night. Lieutenant Colonel John H. Lewis, in charge of Camp Mead, Texas, will be unable to attend the funeral.

Five Being Taken As Beer Violators

Half a dozen more criminal informations against people who are selling beer in Wisconsin were being made out in the office of U. S. District Attorney Wolfe this morning. The latter is promising a jail sentence for the hundreds of violators in the western district.

"Five men are being arrested today," he declared, "for selling beer containing 2.5 per cent alcohol by weight and 3.35 of alcohol by volume. We have hundreds of samples gathered from other cities in Wisconsin and as soon as the analysis can be made prosecutions will be made in those cities. This is no boy's game. These men have wilfully violated the law and for that reason I am going to ask a jail sentence in every case unless the violator is an invalid or an imbecile."

Members of Congress Are Near to Fight

WASHINGTON—Members of the house intervened today to prevent a personal collision between Representatives Blanton and Hardy of Texas, both democrats. Resenting the charge by Blanton that he was "a mere rubber stamp" in the sense that he always defended the administration, Hardy rushed at his colleague, but was restrained.

REDS SHATTER GIANT DREAMS

Reuther and Sallee Pitch Two Victories Over New York, 4-3, 2-1

NEW YORK — The pennant hopes of the New York Nationals received a crushing blow on Wednesday when Cincinnati won both games in the National league championship race. The Reds won the first game 4 to 3 and repeated in the second game 2 to 1.

The crowd that saw the two games has never been approached here before outside the world series games. It was estimated at close to 40,000.

The Giants fell before the skill of Cincinnati's two left handers, the youngster Reuther, and the veteran Sallee. Reuther beat Nehf, the newly acquired left hander in the first game, while Sallee won a tight pitchers' battle from Douglas in the second game. It was the first time Nehf and Douglas had appeared on the Polo grounds in New York in uniform.

Errors by the Giants lost the second game for Douglas, Cincinnati's two runs were made in the fourth inning on Giant errors. Chase fumbled on Roush who advanced to second on Neale's sacrifice, Kopf scored on Magee's single, the veteran's only hit of the day.

Sallee pitched a remarkable game against his old comrades, as only twenty-eight Giants went to bat. He permitted only three hits. Score:

BALL MAGNATES AFTER JOHNSON

Suspension of Pitcher Mays Stirs up Holocaust in American League

NEW YORK—At a special meeting of the board of direcors of the American League of Baseball clubs here today the powers of President B. B. Johnson in his relations with the club owners formed the chief topic for discussion. The meeting was called by a majority of the directors, consisting of Charles A. Comiskey, Jacob Rupper and Harry H. Frazee, representing respectively, the Chicago, New York and Boston clubs and was the result of the indefinite suspension of Carl W. Mays, a pitcher, recently sold by the Boston club to New York. The other members of the board includes President Johnson and James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland club.

In addition to considering the powers exercised by President Johnson it was announced that the majority directors would make inquiry regarding Mr. Johnson's relations with the Cleveland club. Further legal complicaions developed Wednesday in the Mays controversy when a court order was obtained by officials of the New York club requiring President Johnson to appear before a feferee in this city Friday to answer questions regarding a possible financial interest in the Cleveland organization. Mr. Johnson was served with an injuncion prevening him from utilizing a league sinking fund in defending cases against him growing out of the controversy.

A hearing will be held tomorrow to give Johnson an opportunity to show cause why the injunction, obtained by the majority directors should not be made permanent. At the hearing before the referee, Johnson will be asked as to his alleged enmity toward Mr. Frazee of the Boston club and why Pitcher Mays was suspended without an opportunity to answer charges.

Baseball men in close touch with the situation said today that late developments indicated that the case would not be settled out of court as rumored earlier in the week. Hope of conciliation, they said, has virtually been abandoned.

DETROIT NOT OPPOSED TO PITCHER CARL MAYS

DETROIT—Although the court order restraining clubs and umpires from interfering with the New York American league club's use of Pitcher Carl Mays is not effective here, President Frank J. Navin of the Detroit club, let it be known today that he has no intention of opposing Mays' appearance here.

Detroit opens a series with New York here this afternoon after a highly successful road trip that brought it within striking distance of the league leadership. It was generally expected Mays would pitch the opening game.

Andrew Mayer Wins Veterans' Championship In Trapshoot

CHICAGO — Andrew Mayer, Madison's veteran trapshooting artist and winner of many honors during his long career at the traps, won the three score and ten championship with 46 breaks in Wednesday's shooting at the South Shore Country club. The Madison champion is 71 years and six months old, and was the youngest competitor in his event. His competitors were J. F. Porter, aged 80, Chicago, 42; L. Thielman, St. Cloud, Minn., 72, 39, and J. F. Brictenstein, 74, Burlington, Ia., 33.

There are 671 entries in the classification event for Thursday, and 846 for the grand American handicap on Friday.

Great shooting marked the American amateur trapshooting championship at singles targets, won on Wednesday by Frank H. Wright, champion of New York, after a tie at 199 out of 200 with R. D. Morgan of Washington, D. C., champion of the District of Columbia, and John William Skard of Fair Play, Mo.

Nick Arie of Menhard, Tex., won the American amateur championship at doubles targets; George Andrew Miller, 10 years old, of Brewton, Ala., the youngest contestant, won the junior championship. Miller, the boy champion, who will be 11 years old next December, was the smallest as well as the youngest contestant, and used a gun and load as large and as heavy as those by a man. He outshot Harley Woodward of Houston, Tex., last year's champion of Texas.

FLASHERS PLAY LEAGUE CHAMPS

"Scoop" Hoven to Oppose Culver on Mound—Office Nine Wins, 15-12

A baseball game between the Northwestern, city amateur league champions, and the French Battery "Flashers," a strong east side nine, has been scheduled by Athletic Chairman Ben Diederich of the French Battery company for the battery diamond on Winnebago street at 5:45 tonight. Much hinges on the result for the Flashers are after the city baseball championship and a defeat tonight would practically eliminate them.

A pitchers' duel between Culver, star hurler of the railroad champs, and "Scoop" Hoven, 19 year old hurler, who has pitched good ball all season for the Esser's Markets, is likely to make the battle tonight one of the best seen here this season.

Australians Defeat Two More U. S. Stars

BROOKLINE — Norman Brookes and Gerald Patterson, leaders of the invasion of Australian tennis stars on Wednesday defeated Frederick B. Alexander and S. Howard Voshell, in the semi-final round of the national doubles championship. The victors won in straight sets, 10—8, 6—2, and 14-12.

The other feature event of the day was the victory of William M. Johnston and C. J. Griffin, the northwestern titleholder, over Maurice E. McLoughlin and T. C. Bundy, the California stars. Johnston and Griffin won in four sets 4—6, 13—12, 6—0, 8—6. The second set required 26 games.

On Thursday, Johnston and Griffin are to meet Brooks and Patterson. The challenge round will follow, with Vincent Richards and William T. Tilden defending the title they won last year.

MAPLE BLUFF BEATS BELOIT

Madison Golfers Take Close 34 to 23 Match—Colin Kidd Wins

The Maple Bluff Gold club team won a 34 to 23 match from Beloit golfers in one of the closest and most exciting day's play of the year at Maple Bluff links Wednesday. Colin Kidd, Madison's professional, defeated J. V. McIntyre, Beloit pro, in medal score for the 18 holes, getting a 77 to the Line City man's 79. The Janesville golfers will be here for a match next Wednesday.

Yesterday's results, Madison men named first:

Hank O'Day Has Spent 3 Decades On the Diamond

Hank O'Day, one of the National league veteran umpires, is having a banner season. Hank has been identified with the sport for more than thirty years. Back in 1883 O'Day pitched for the Giants, who won the pennant and the world's championship that season. He was a sturdy right hander and took a turn in the box with Tim Keefe, Mickey Welch and Ed Crane. O'Day also pitched for the New York Players' league team in 1890, also for the Washington and other big league outfits.

As a National league umpire, O'Day figured in the memorable game between the Giants and the Cubs at the Polo grounds in 1908, in which he allowed the visitors' claim that Fred Merkle had failed to touch second base. Six years later Charles Webb Murphy, owner of the Cubs, suddenly released Johnny Evers from the management and appointed O'Day, who had had a previous experience as leader of the Reds.

O'Day withdrew from the Cubs' management after one year and returned to the National league's umpire staff. He is doing excellent work in this capacity and is perfectly happy.

If Mc Goorty Defeats Beckett And Beckett Beats Carpentier, Where Will Dempsey Come In?

NEW YORK — London promoters have picked Eddie McGoorty, the Oshkosh, Wis., middleweight, to battle Joe Beckett, British heavyweight champion, at London, on Sept. 2. This bout, scheduled for twenty rounds, takes the place of the Beckett-Carpentier contest, slated for the same date. Carpentier, still in army service, was forced to postpone his engagement with the Briton. The Carpentier-Beckett clash is now on the books for some time in November.

Either they have all possible confidence in Beckett's ability, or else someone slipped up in making the McGoorty match. Eddie is a mighty shifty battler. He carries a kick that remindeth one of the mule's hind foot. He is a clever boxer, fast on his feet, and an adept at making the other fellow miss by a mile or so.

If by any chance Edward should knock Beckett kicking, the latter's hopes of a battle with Jack Dempsey for the world's crown would sink without leaving a trace. With it would go that million-dollar purse or whatever the exact sum is. That Eddie is liable to drop the Britisher for the long ten count is no mere dream. McGoorty has dropped quite a few big ones in his day. His army training seems to have revived him just when it seemed he was on the toboggan.

American fight lovers who saw the recent Carpentier-Dick Smith bout at Paris sent along word that Yankeeland has some good middleweights who would be more than a match for the French champion. Yankees who saw Beckett dispose of Frank Goddard in the battle that decided the British crown were not impressed with Beckett's work. They, too, flashed word that Beckett did not seem as good as some of our good middleweights.

McGoorty is right among the top liners in the middle division. Imagin what complication would develop should Edward knock Beckett for a goal. That probably would knock the Beckett-Carpentier match into a cocked hat. McGoorty would be in line for the crack at Carpentier. Continuing along these same lines, suppose Eddie should take the measure of the Frenchman also? Who'd fight Jack Dempsey then?

Hardly McGoorty. Eddie is too light—a legitimate middlewight who seldom steps into the ring weighing more than 165 pounds. A McGoorty-Dempsey match wouldn't be much of a card in America. Nor is it possible that London would pay a fortune to see two Yankees maul each other about.

Eddie McGoorty (standing) and Joe Beckett.

MILWAUKEE TO STAGE CHAMPIONSHIP BOUT

MILWAUKEE — For the first time since the state athletic commission was created and the state boxing bill became a law, that was back in 1913, Milwaukee's devotees of the boxing sport will get a glimpse of a world's bantamweight ring champion in action in this city. The big event occurs Friday night inside the spacious Auditorium, where Peter Kid Herman, holder of the title, meets Jack Sharkey of New York in a ten round battle.

SEEING JANESVILLE BY DAY

On stepping off the train after reaching the station an officer inquired where I was from and where I was going. I politely told him that I was from Madison, Wis. He then told me it would be alright, to keep on going for I could do no harm in Janesville. After walking a few blocks I reached the main part of the city and there ran into what I would call Madison's first carnival. Oh, what life! Everybody busy, everybody happy.

On my way down I had been troubled somewhat with indigestion but after mingling with a happy crowd, I soon lost all track of it.

I asked a party near me what this all meant and he stated, "Nothing out of the ordinary, this is our everyday life." I then began to realize that this is the kind of a city that I would like to live in. Here was a city that some of the keenest young business men had come to from all parts of the country, with a determination to make their fortunes and also help build up the city.

I now began to get hungry and after some inquiry I found that a Madison boy is running the Lawrence restaurant and by the way, a dandy place to eat.

After dinner we started out to see the business side of Janesville and found the following:

"General Motors" spending an enormous amount of money on new factory. Will employ at least 10,000 men.
Great many other factories.
A city with a population of 100,000 in ten years.
Entire city to be rebuilt in ten years.
The city to be rebuilt by outside capital.
500 homes to be built at once.
Interurban running into city every hour.
Merchants getting good business from surrounding towns.
All stores and banks open Saturday afternoons and evenings.

On reaching the hotel on our return from the day's tramp I immediately sought rest and in my sleep began to dream of a "Greater Madison."

THE DEBT OF LAFAYETTE

(From The New Republic)

> I was moved to sign this treaty by considerations which will, I hope, seem as persuasive and irresistible to you as they seemed to me. We are bound to France by ties of friendship which we have always regarded, and shall always regard, as peculiarly sacred. She assisted us to win our freedom as a nation.

This obligation Mr. Wilson discovered for the first time somewhere between January first, 1919, and April first, 1919. He discovered it because Marshal Foch insisted upon the annexation of the left bank of the Rhine, and because other but more moderate French leaders insisted upon a buffer state in the Rhineland. Mr. Wilson was told that France must either have these strategic guarantees or a special alliance. Without one or the other the Clemenceau cabinet would fall under the combined attack of the militarists and the socialists. To save Clemenceau Mr. Wilson agreed to this treaty. Having agreed to it under compulsion, against his judgment and against all his previous utterances, he makes a virtue of his neccessity and puts the bargain forward as payment of the debt of Lafayette, and because he can do nothing without investing it with an air of high and universal morality, he calls M. Clemenceau's political tactics "the true heart of duty."

If Mr. Wilson's alleged reasons for this alliance were the true reasons, he would stand condemned as one of the most ungrateful statesmen of history. If what he says now is no, it must always have been so for the last one hundred and forty years, and all of Mr. Wilson's declamation against special alliances must have been not only insincere but at variance with the true heart of duty. Of course, no responsible person, either in France or in America, ever seriously insisted on this historical sentimentalism as a basis of statesmanship, and Mr. Wilson knows, as well as any one, that he is simply using this catch-cry to avoid the necessity of explaining in straightforward fashion the bargain he was compelled to make. This is the least frank of all his manoeuvers and the least pardonable effort yet made to exploit American inexperience in foreign affairs.

The main facts are these: France remains the strongest power on the continent. With her military establishment intact she faces a Germany without a general staff, without conscription, without universal military training, with a strictly limited amount of light artillery, with no air service, no fleet, with no domestic basis in raw materials for armament manufacture, with her whole western border fifty kilometers east of the Rhine demilitarized. On top of this France has a system of military alliances with the new states that touch Germany. On top of this she secures permanent representation in the Council of the League from which Germany is excluded. On top of that economic terms which, while they cannot be fulfilled, do cripple the industrial life of her neighbor. With such a balance of forces, France demands for herself a form of protection which neither Belgium, nor Poland, nor Czecho-Slovakia, nor Italy is granted.

There is a principle well known to insurance men which says that one must suspect any one who over-insures his business. When the insurance is much more than the facts warrant, look out for fire. In this case, one is compelled to suspect the French politicians. They want a treaty which will bring our army to France without waiting for the Council to decide whether France is unjustly attacked. This Council, mind you, sits at Geneva, within a comfortable distance by motor car from the Franco-German frontier. The Council consists of France, England, America, Italy and Japan. If excludes Germany, and all of Germany's former Allies. We are asked to believe that this Council, possessed of all the information about Germany's internal life obtainable through the various commissions set up by the Treaty of Versailles, that this Council is incapable of advising quickly enough that an aggression is threatened.

Well, if these gentlemen at Geneva cannot know in time, how in Congress to know? It would seem that the French government needs simply to inform the American ambassador that the casus foederis has occurred, and a declaration of war must follow immediately. For surely if the Council at Geneva is incapable of deciding the truth of the matter, the American ambassador in Paris, or the State Department, are still less capable. Under these circumstances Congress can do one of two things: Declare war without stopping to investigate the facts, or debate the matter of a while. To declare war without looking would be obvious folly, to debate would defeat the purpose of the Alliance. The attempt to ignore the Council of the League involves this dilemma. Either the Alliance transfers to the Quai d'Orsay the right to decide when American troops shall fight on the Rhine, or it is simply an attempt to substitute the old process of diplomatic alliances for the one substantial thing in the Covenant of Paris. For it would seem that if there was one question in the whole world which a Council sitting at Geneva, with France represented and Germany excluded, might be competent to do, and do in a sense entirely favorable to France, it would be to advise whether an aggression was occurring on the frontier nearest to the place where it sits. If it cannot do that, what in the name of Heaven can it do?

Every day there emerges from Washington a series of inspired dispatches telling how Europe and especially the new states will go to wrack and ruin if the Covenant isn't ratified. But if the League cannot advise whether France is being attacked, with France on the Council to urge her case, of what conceivable protection is it to Jugo-Slavia, or Rumania, or China or any other state where the frontiers are far away, the facts complicated, the rights and wrongs confused? We have no particular illusions as to the value of the League which was framed at Paris, but we do regard the institution of the Council and Assembly as a vast improvement in the machinery of diplomatic decision. Now if in all the world, a person were asked to select one case where that machinery might be used with some chance of its success, it would be just on the border between France and Germany. With proximity, with unique opportunity to watch Germany, with a pro-French majority always at hand, what more could be asked? Yet just at that point the prime authors of the League declare it incompetent. If they are right, if the League is no good at that point, then the covenant which is to save the whole world is indeed a poor thing.

If France with her specially privileged position under the Treaty of Versailles, cannot rely on the League, then everybody else's reliance on the League is sheer folly. Take China, for example. China is weak. Japan is strong. Japan has appetites for China and does not hesitate to use force. Can a Council sitting at Geneva protect China better or even as well as it can protect France? Obviously not. All the guarantees of the League are depreciated by this open confession of the League's weakness on the part of the men who wrote it. It is as if a group of rich men organized a bank and invited people to put their savings in it, but declined to put any of their own in the bank. How much security would anybody feel in that bank?

Save Anything? Oh, Yes,—He Saved a Little Daylight

AT THE THEATERS

AT THE FULLER FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

BRYANT WASHBURN in "Love Insurance"
A Paramount Picture

THE NEW STRAND.

Wearing gowns, furs, gems and slippers valued at more than $50,000, Elsie Ferguson, the famous star, will appear in her latest Artcraft photoplay, "The Avalanche," at the New Strand for a three day run commencing today. Miss Ferguson's wardrobe in this picture is so extensive that an extra dressing room was provided at the studio during the filming of the picture, to accommodate the latest creations of the most famous modists of New York.

The latest "Topics of the Day," the breezy up to the minute sayings, compiled by the editors of Literary Digest and a comedy picture will complete this well selected program.

FULLER.

"Wedlock," Louise Glaum's latest production as a Paralta star, will be the attraction at the Fuller theater today. This is the third Paralta play in which this gifted star has appeared. As with the two preceding ones, "An Alien Enemy" and "Shackled," this picture was directed by Wallace Worsley, who has been given credit for mounting Miss Glaum's productions in a most lavish manner with every thought to the smallest detail.

MAJESTIC

William Russell, supported by Pritzi Brunette will be seen at the Majestic today and Friday in his latest play called "A Sporting Chance." The picture sort of defies analysis. Perhaps the best definition would be to call it a play within a play. The spectator is going to be completely fooled by its denouement. It starts off as a fast and furious melodrama and when the finale is reached you notice that it is a lively farce.

Thompson Leases Dance Hall for Winter

The dance hall above the old Palace of Sweets has been leased by Alvie Thompson, proprietor of the Thompson orchestras, who will give dances there during the coming winter. It is planned to have the first orchestra play here exclusively on Friday and Saturday nights during the school year and the hall will always be available for private parties during the week.

4706 Bales Offered At Wool Auction

LONDON (Wednesday)— There were 4,706 bales offered at the wool auction sales today. Good grades were in demand but inferiors sold in buyers' favor. The restrictions on the exportation of coarse crossbreds have been removed.

Sinn Fein Leader Gets Year in Prison

DUBLIN—Peter Paul Gallivan, member of parliament from Cavan, who was courtmartialed on a charge of illegal drilling of troops and the incitation of mobs as a Sinn Fein leader, has been sentenced to a year's imprisonment at hard labor.

Newspapers Again Printed In Tokio

TOKIO—Newspapers are again publishing here following the settlement of the strike of printers which forced a general suspension last week.

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Rep. Huddleston of Alabama charged in the house that the National Coal association had spent $50,000 for advertising space in 400 newspapers in an "effort to make people buy coal now at exorbitant prices through belief of an impending shortage."

"Nothing except an act of congress," he said, "will stay this infamous attempt on the part of the coal operators to take advantage of suffering humanity next winter.

"There is no coal shortage and no labor shortage, but there is a shortage in common honesty on the part of the coal operators."

Thompson Denounces Profiteers

vestment have become so common as hardly to be noticed. Some of them have earned from 200 to 1,500 per cent. Eight hundred new millionaires have been made during the last year. And, in the midst of this financial orgy and saturnalia, thousands and thousands of our people are in actual want. Famine prices are staring them in the eye.

"I need not enumerate the commodities as to which the price has risen. The story is well known to you all. Your patience is at the breaking point. You get better prices for what you sell, but the profiteers stand by your side to claim it. Labor gets higher wages, to be sure, but, inside of 60 days, the profiteers have it all. Two per cent of the people own 65 per cent of the wealth of this country. I presume they are not satisfied at that; they no doubt think these 2 per cent ought to own 98 per cent of the wealth, and the rest of us should be satisfied with 2 per cent among all of us.

"We fought the kaiser because he wanted to dominate the political life of Europe. I now ask you to fight the kaisers at home. There are five of them—the five big packers, and their ambition is not limited to one hemisphere, they would dominate and control the food supply not only of the United States, but of the world. They control, not only the meat market, but the hide market, and over 700 other commodities of life. Every home pays tribute to them. From the time you take your breakfast food in the morning until you close your eyes in slumber you are paying tribute, tribute, tribute to the hugh packing trust.

"Not satisfied with being packers alone, they have sought to and do control the shipping facilities, refrigerator cars and storage warehouses. In selling to them, if the producer is dissatisfied, all packers in the family circle are notified, and the producer gets no satisfaction. He is at their mercy. So is the consumer. They buy for the price they want to pay and they sell for the price they ask and they hold their competitors at awe and at their mercy.

When you can buy for what you want and sell for what you ask and keep others from interfering, you have something better than a gold mine. Even better than diamonds, platinum, radium, or any of the precious jewels. In 1908 they made the modest sum of $17,000,000; in 1917, $80,000,000; in 1918, $100,000,000; and, if they continue the way they are going now, in 1919, they will make $150,000,000. The personal spending money of the Armours alone, I believe there are four of them in the family, is $44,000,000 a year. May I submit that this should be sufficient and they ought to stop taking any more from the people.

"Not content with their earnings, they enter the legislative halls and seek to improperly influence legislation. They deluge the newspapers with paid advertisements and seek to make of every editor an intellectual prostitute. They drill their witnesses, destroy valuable documents, suppress testimony and corrupt public opinion. They have violated every obligation of citizenship and deserve to the fullest extent what is now coming to them.

"Wallowing in millions, these two-legged food-hogs never look into the sunlight of economic and political decency. From Washington we get the story that, after all they have made they nevertheless had the effrontery to request an exemption of taxation on their foreign business. Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, Morris and Swift, the five little fellows, appearing in the role of the overburdened to beg mercy at the hands of Uncle Sam, shedding crocodile tears, and praying, "Uncle Sam, have mercy on us, relieve us of our share of taxation or we perish!" There seems to be no limit to what can be done in a financial debauch.

"It is time once and for all to stop gambling in the necessities of life. One big fat gambler in Chicago made a million dollars on eggs in one year and then retired. Hoover says that over and above a round profit, the food gamblers of Minneapolis and Chicago tage $5 out of every barrel of flour. He tells us that 10,000,000 barrels of flour are disposed of every month, and this means the modest sum of $50,000,000 per month taken from the sweat and toil of our citizens and turned over to those who neither toil nor spin, except in limousines. They tell us the farmer is getting $2.26 for his wheat, and say nothing about the speculator who converts that bushel into shredded wheat for which he charges $36 per bushel. The farmer may get $1.90 for corn, but the big fellow, who converts the corn into flakes, gets $12 for the same bushel. The Quaker Oats company made 104 per cent on its investment last year.

"Cold storage must be regulated. It must be controlled by the government. There must be a limit to the time during which an article can be stored. The date should be printed on the article and the light of day should be turned on all the transactions of the concerns that handle or store the necessities of life. The Federal Trade Commission shows in its report that of the staple articles of food there is from three to 298 per cent more in storage now than there was a year ago, in spite of the famine prices. Why? To wait for better prices, higher, still higher! Is it any wonder that the people are geting out of patience? There should be a limit to greed. If the heart and the conscience provide none, let the law and the courts provide one for them. The law of August, 1917, gives ample authority to prosecute anyone who hoards the necessities of life either to limit the supply or to enhance the price. Give me this weapon and were I district attorney in the city of Chicago, I believe I should make them seek their hiding places.

"Other countries have accomplished something. France has fixed profits at 15 per cent, has fixed the prices of bread and is putting the profiteers in jail. England has fixed the price an 94 staple articles and is getting after the profiteers, to make them part with their ill-gotten gain. Some of this would be very wholesome in the United States. There is nothing that the prosperous monopolists like less than parting with their spoils or serving a term in jail.

"The government is about to release its large supply of stored food. I do not know why it has not been earlier done. But, thank God, it is now to be done. Why can we not apply the same method to the private supplies in storage. If they are held unlawfully, as many of them unquestionably are, let them be confiscated like the game warden confiscates fish or game unlawfully held, and let the people obtain these foods at a reasonable price.

"I stand for a square deal. Profiteering must stop; food gambling must cease; the hoarding of food must not be permitted; supply and demand should be allowed to control, and our industry and agriculture should forever be freed from parasitical agencies.

"Some tell us they do not want this kind of sentiment at this time. Neither did the slave-holders want sentiment against slavery, but they got it nevertheless. Would you have the sentiment expressed by one of the packers that they are bigger than the government, or would you have the sentiment prevail that the government is master of the situation?

"I appeal to you to take the stand against orgabized autocracy and to enlist with me in the battle for democracy. There is a new era coming. The dawn is breaking, a new day is ahead. The government must do something for the people. This is not paternalism. It is freedom. It is true Americanism, unadulterated and 100%. Freedom of speech, freedom in industry, equality of opportunity, righteousness and a square deal, this is the new declaration of independence to which we must pledge our hearts, our souls, our sacred honor and our lives."
